

The diagrams below are an example so you can see the cut sizes versus and finished sizes of the different pieces in a fictional Anything Goes layout for a small pop up.

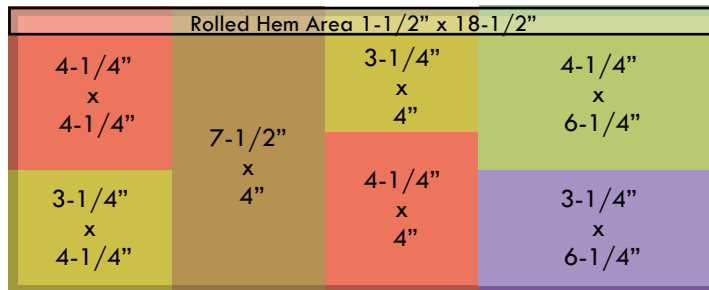

The finished size of the outer side after piecing will be 7-1/2" x 18-1/2".

During construction of the pop up, the right and left edges of outer side will be sewn together to form a tube, using up the seam allowance on both edges. The bottom edge will be sewn to a base, using up the seam allowance on that edge. The top edge will be rolled over twice using up at least 1" of the top edge. Keep this in mind when placing T's with graphics along the top edge. I recommend having 1-1/2" at the top of any pieces before the graphic starts.

Hopefully this helps you figure out how to cut each piece in your Anything Goes layout!

Plan, Plan, Plan, then Cut! Don't forget your seam allowance!

Enjoy!
Jo
